Yes, The Herald is for Jon Newton, 34, in the runoff for Railroad Commissioner over Jerry Sadler, onetime Texas Land Commissioner who struck a photographer and one-time refused press access to public records.

Texas newspapers generally supported Bob Armstrong who unseated the then veteran politician who before World War II had been on the Railroad Commission. Armstrong incidentally now heads the Carter Caucus of the Texas Democratic delegation.

The issue was so clear in 1970 that The Herald ran an endorsing editorial and reprints of three daily endorsements from various parts of Texas.

We think the issue is still clear. Sadler is playing the populist and saying Newton is accepting support from special interest contributors.

We would rather know the list of Newton's contributors was on a public record available to the press than face the possibility of a repeat performance by Sadler, 68.

I saw the film version of "All the President's Men" starring Robert Redford and Dustin Hoffman the other day. It is an extraordinarily candid portrayal of developing an enormously important story under the greatest of pressure.

Woodward and Bernstein were two untired reporters who refused to turn away from hundreds of dead ends until they put together the Watergate story, not just for a Pulitzer in reporting, but for the First Amendment and a constitutional form of government.

The integrity of The Washington Post was only one of lesser things at stake. In similar fashion, the press serves every day.

Plans Continue For Annual Stiles Field Day

THRALL

The 14th annual Stiles Farm Foundation Field Day is set for June 15 at Thrall in Williamson County, and plans for the event are making good progress despite recent wet weather. "We're getting geared up for the field day, but right now we could use some warm weather and plenty of sunshine," said Calvin Rinn, manager of the farm, in referring to the abundance of soil moisture. "Our crops are making slow progress due to cool, wet conditions, but we hope the next few weeks will bring open weather to get things back on schedule."

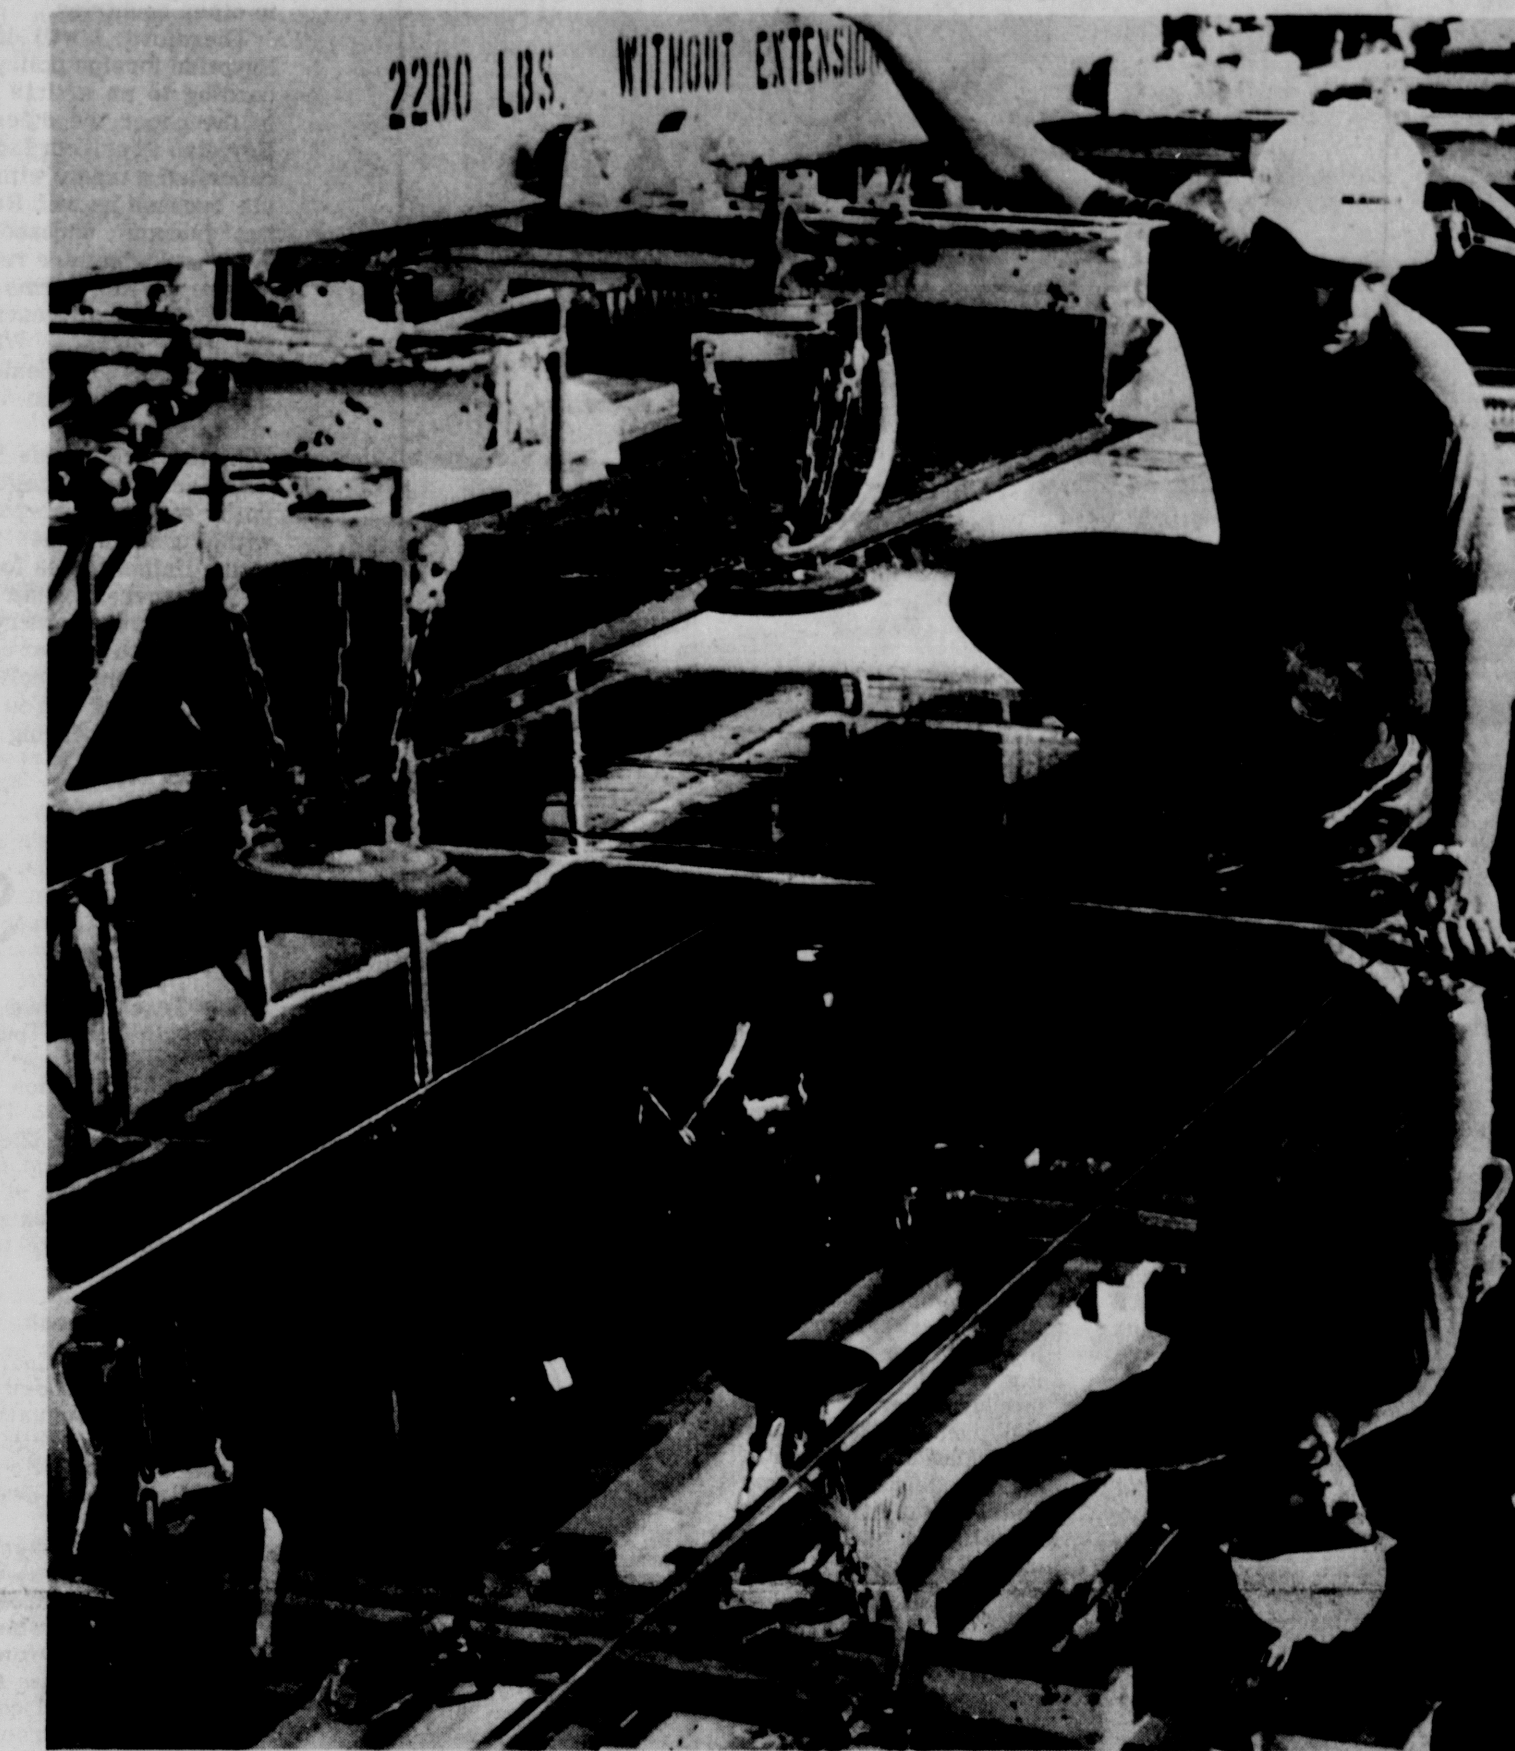

A tour of field demonstrations on the 3,200-acre blackland farm is a highlight of each field day. This year field day visitors will see and hear about work being conducted on narrow-row cotton, minimum tillage, new fast growth Bermudagrass varieties, and growth implants in beef cattle. Tours will begin at 2 p.m.

A special highlight of this year's field day will be an address by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, pointed out Rinn. "We are indeed privileged to have the Governor of Texas participate in our annual field day, and we look forward to his remarks."

Briscoe's address will come at 5:30 p.m. program which will be followed by a barbecue.

Equipment displays and educational booths will also be featured at the field day, noted Rinn. Specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and scientists, with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station will be on hand to talk with visitors and to discuss any problems and concerns related to crop and livestock production.

The Stiles farm was established in 1961 under the trusteeship of the Texas A&M University System. It operates as a demonstration farm for the Central Texas blackland area

WHICH WAY'S UP--Aluminum sheet is polished to an almost mirror finish for use as fuselage skin on jetliners at Aluminum Company of America's Davenport Works. Rockdale Works, one of four Alcoa Texas area plants, supplies some half-million pounds of airline alloy sheet to the Iowa facility each month. Aircraft manufacturers require that aluminum sheet have the highest possible quality and the brightest finish that can be applied uniformly.

No Pat Solutions Reached For North Milam Ambulance Problem

No hard and fast solutions were reached by a study committee which met Monday morning in the county courtroom to discuss the problem of ambulance service for the county, and the group has scheduled another meeting next Monday to continue discussion.

Some answer must be reached before June 15 when both Cameron funeral homes will discontinue ambulance service to north Milam County.

Other parts of the county are served by nearby funeral homes, or, in the case of Rockdale and Thorndale, by their own ambulance service. On hand for the meeting were Thorndale Mayor Louis Woelfel, Rockdale Mayor N. E. Alford, Buckholts Mayor Richard Crowe, Cameron city councilman Ernest Moore and businessmen Al Coats of Gause and E. C. Westbrook of Milano. County Judge O. B. Harden chaired the meeting and Dalton Caffey represented commissioners.

Folk Fete Invites

Artists Exhibits

Artists and craftsmen throughout the state have been invited to exhibit their works at the 1976 Folk Fete festival in Cameron June 11, 12, and 13.

The art fair will be held on the National Guard Armory grounds all three days. Hours will be from 10:30 a.m. till dark Friday and Saturday, and on Sunday from 12 noon until dark.

Any area artists and craftsmen who were not contacted but are interested in exhibiting their works are asked to contact D. R. Pimpler, chairman, Folk Fete Arts and Crafts Show, Rt. 1, Box 314, Cameron, Texas 76520, as soon as possible.

service is a success, emphasized that "management is the answer" and told the others that good service was possible without "going to the trough."

Rockdale's service is provided by the police department and Alford said these men are trained and paid to do the job of both law enforcement and providing ambulance service.

Moore expressed interest in Alford's comments and said he would like to look over that city's books to see if it was actually operating in the black. Alford extended invitations to all to come to Rockdale and check into their service.

Mayor Woelfel said Thorndale is operating a good service but needs a new ambulance to replace its present 1966 model which was donated to the city. He said he didn't know where the city would get funds to buy the vehicle but it would be bought. Judge Harden said cities have three sources of income--ad valorem taxes, sales tax refunds, and revenue sharing.

Among suggestions was one for a subsidy program, similar to some other counties which have faced the same problem. Moore reported on various findings gleaned from contact with other cities and counties. He said they all reported losses which resulted from operating ambulance services.

Alford, newly elected mayor after serving as Rockdale city manager up until two years ago, said that city's service was working out well and Moore said that was not what he had been told by other Rockdale city employees.

Crowe said Buckholts and Milano cannot afford to provide service and the problem will be acute in north Milam where the two Cameron funeral homes are providing the service now. Crowe said he understood that new federal regulations will make the service even more expensive.

Woelfel said he feels that Thorndale should have help from the county to buy a new vehicle.

Harden said the county receives $370,000 in tax revenues, $150,000 from revenue sharing, and the balance in fines and fees to run the county. He said "when you talk about the county you are talking about yourselves."

Harden asked Moore for a recommendation and Moore said the city cannot afford to operate a service. He said it could be on a participation basis with both city and county paying a share. He said he would look over Rockdale's operation before the next Monday meeting.

Chamber Sets Week For Ag Appreciation

Sid Duderstadt, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce, announces that there will be an Agriculture Appreciation Week from August 22 through 28, as proclaimed by the Cameron City Council and the Milam County Commissioners Court.

Duderstadt said that these bodies recognize the importance of agriculture to our area and that agriculture is still the number one income producing industry in the county.

Duderstadt also announced that the Committee is sponsoring a $50 cash award to the producer of the first bale of cotton and a $50 cash award to the producer of the first acceptable load of grain sorghum.

The awards will be presented during Agriculture Appreciation Week and further details will be announced at a later date.

City Opens Paving Project

Paving plans for Cameron's Green Addition moved a step closer to reality Tuesday evening when the city council moved to proceed with an assessment program and engaged a fiscal agent for the project.

Tom Anderlitch, of Texas Securities Corp. of San Antonio, met with the council and outlined steps in the program, which starts with a contract for the firm's service and follows with the passing of four ordinances and a public hearing. Engineers plans and specs must be drawn up, bids let, and Anderlitch said it would probably be 6 to 8 months before actual work can start.

It was agreed to push the installation of curb and gutter in the area, which is also having a storm drain installed at this time.

One of the ordinances will outline just which streets are included in the project, and property owners will be notified as to cost after the bids are let.

Councilman Monroe Fuchs recommended that the city continue the street paving program, appropriating money each year. Anderlitch said if response is good on the first project, the city should proceed with a second.

In other business, council rejected a bid of $4,200 from Joe Tomerlin for four lots on West 12 Street. A low bid of $4,243.27 was awarded to Cameron Motor Co. for a new pickup for the street department.

Bids will be advertised for a new interceptor car for the police department along with two sets of lights and sirens.

Council tabled action on installing lights at the West 12 St. park and approved installing two more lights at the library.

City Atty. Ed Magre reported that he is in contact with railroad officials to improve draining on streets crossing the tracks.

Council appointed Wayne Mann and Mrs. Bess Jeter to served on the library board for three years, and appointed Councilman Gene Lumpkin and Jan Luecke to serve as a council street committee. E. L. Wied, J. D. Moore, and William Kelm were appointed to new terms on the housing board.

Mayor Lawrence Zott read a letter from Mrs. Bill Burns objecting to the spending of $1,000 of bicentennial funds for July 4 fireworks. Zott pointed out that the city had budgeted $2,000 for the bicentennial committee and they had asked for release of the $1,000.

Charles McGregor of KML asked permission for the radio station to erect a temporary platform in the city park pavilion for use in concerts planned for the summer. It was granted.

Council voted to purchase a lot next to the city park for park expansion at a cost of $7,500. A discussion followed on the budgeting of revenue sharing funds from which the lot would be purchased.

Councilman Ernest Moore showed a map with an area outlined that is subject to flooding, and recommended that restrictions be placed on buildings in the area.

Gause Community In State Contest For Improvements

By John E. Snell

The Gause community will be judged in the final round of competition for the state award in the Texas Community Improvement contest on May 25 at 10 a.m.

Gause will be competing against Austwell, a community in Refugio County, Callisburg in Cooke County, and Little River-Academy which is in Bell County.

The community was judged in Region III competition on May 12. It was judged as first place winner in the region over Dike and Fashing-Peggy communities in Hopkins and Atascosa Counties.

The Community Improvement Program is sponsored by the investor-owned electric companies, and is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

The program is designed to give a helping hand to rural communities with a population of 1,000 or less by assisting them in organizing the community leadership and in utilizing community resources more effectively and efficiently. The program has been in operation for some 20 years. There were 217 communities enrolled in the TCIP for 1975-76, representing 83 counties.

Cash awards are presented to top communities at the district and regional level as well as at the state level. District winners receive $100, regional winners $300, and state winner will be awarded $450.

Sheriff, Deputies Capture Prisoner After Escape

A Rockdale man led Milam County sheriff and deputies on a merry chase Tuesday morning around 8:30 after he dashed out the jail door where he had been held since Friday.

Bobby Parker, who was awaiting transfer to a Waco hospital, ran out the door as he was being led to a car in front of the jail. He dashed to Hefley Stedman Motor Co., ran through the shop and into the front office where he was captured.

Parker used a handcuff on his wrist to fend off capture and skinned some knuckles of his pursuers before he was overpowered.

He had been placed in jail Friday following an accident in Rockdale.

Rosebud Dam Cracks Widen; Funds Sought

Rosebud city officials are watching a crack in the dam holding the city's water supply grow while efforts continue to get funds to make repairs.

City Manager Dan Roark said Monday that as long as it stays dry the dam may hold but the next big heavy rain may spell disaster to crops in the path of escaping lake water. Two bridges over creeks in the area are also in danger if the dam gives way.

The crack in the dam, which is four to five feet wide in places, has lengthened and all the area within the crack has sunk several feet.

The cracking of the dam was first discovered last September about two months after the Department of Housing and Urban Development turned down a Rosebud application for a grant to repair the dam. Officials have re-submitted the grant request to be considered as an urgent need proposal. It will be several weeks before any decision is made on the application.

Roark said the dam had slipped considerably over the weekend.

The dam was built in the early 1900s by filling in a creek bed. Brush and trees were used to fill the bottom of the dam and this is what started the trouble, when mud in the fill slipped.

Cities Receive Sales Tax Rebates

City sales tax rebates were banked by Cameron and other Central Texas cities following their receipt from the state comptroller.

Cameron's rebate was $3,138.02; Lott, $2,608.67; Rogers, $559.49; Rockdale, $1,635.53; Rosebud, $780.14; Hearne, $3136.62; Caldwell, $3,201.38; and Calvert, $772.42.

Ford 2 to 1, Carter by 2 % . . .

President Ford carried Michigan by about 2 to 1 and Maryland by 57 percent to Ronald Reagan's 43 percent Tuesday while Californian Jerry Brown with Maryland gubernatorial aid beat Jimmy Carter 48 to 38 percent.

Ford then came back strong after a series of Reagan primary wins, but still is behind in committed delegates, facing Western primaries where Reagan is said to have "formidable" strength.

Carter won over Stu Udall in the Michigan Democratic primary 44 to 42 percent, leaving the Arizona liberal in a second-place primary finish about seven times.

Michigan proved Ford knows how to rebound, but fails to prove Reagan is going to fade in a more favorable Western primary environment.

Brown proves that concentrated campaigning can beat Carter in fringe-Southern country and Udall proves that Carter popularity barely survives the liberal concentration of a Udall in a Northern industrial state.

If Idaho's Frank Church can repeat in a few Western states over Carter, the stage will be set for an open Democratic Convention in the summer. Brackets already have been drawn by presidential unknowns Church and Brown outside their home states.

Ford is junking his attacks on Reagan and emphasizes his efforts to cure a sick economy. And Michigan Republican voters, regardless of crossover, supported Ford 65 percent to 34 for Reagan.

Alternatives to both men will be even more frequently considered, such as a combination of a Rockefeller-Connally ticket if Ford and Reagan deadlock in the Republican Convention.

Carter is vulnerable to other new, vague, young campaigners in a year when the country still looks for new direction among an appointed incumbent and governors and away from senators of long-tenure in Washington, who ironically may still outrade the peanut farmer in New York City.

Post-Watergate Decisions...

Federal and state courts revealed last chapters on events of the Watergate era this week.

Conspiracy and perjury charges were upheld on John D. Ehrlichman, former White House Nixon aide, relating to the break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's offices.

Burglary charges were upheld against G. Gordon Liddy, a former White House official who planned a break-in of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding's offices.

Convictions of two Cuban exiles, Eugenio Martinez and Bernard L. Barker, who actually searched the doctor's office for information on Ellsberg, were thrown out. The federal appellate court reasoned the two thought they were conducting a "lawful government operation." The duo had been CIA operatives in Miami among Cuban exiles.

In Texas, Austin attorney Jake Jacobsen entered a surprise plea of "nolo contendere" in a San Angelo district court to charges of theft relating to misapplication of funds from a San Angelo savings and loan firm.

Texas Dist. Judge Curt Steib assessed Jacobsen a seven-year probation sentence, after the pleading and before a petit jury could be empaneled.

Jacobsen was a key witness in a Washington trial of former Gov. John Connally's in 1975. For testimony in the trial against Connally, who was found innocent of the charges, Jacobsen in effect was granted immunity by federal authority in federal charges emanating from the San Angelo's firm's $825,000 losses. Jacobsen's business partner, Ray Cowan, plead guilty to federal charges in the San Angelo case and received a five-year prison sentence.

Jacobsen in effect neither admits nor denies the state charges in the San Angelo case. His plea bargain with federal attorneys interested in his testimony in the Connally case would have eliminated any culpability in the San Angelo case.

Only a year later, Connally is still mentioned as a serious candidate for the national ticket of the Republican Party, which he joined about five years ago.

It would seem justice is being done in both state and federal courts in the last of the Watergate litigation. In retrospect, the federals were granting immunity in litigation which the State of Texas finally showed was not the federals' to give.

The fact Connally went through his Washington jury trial while Jacobsen chose not to go through his in Texas has to be significant in future political decisions.

The federal appeals decisions on Liddy and Ehrlichman only confirm trial court decisions.

Utility Curbing Bills Under Study

Three House committees are working on proposed legislation to curb utility bills following a three-day hearing here last week.

House Speaker Bill Clayton said he is still optimistic something can be agreed on for special legislative session consideration this summer.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he has seen nothing yet which would bring about a significant (10 per cent or greater) reduction in gas and electric bills.

Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington, House Ways and Means Committee chairman, said best opportunity appears to be in the area of tax relief.

Wyatt suggested a program of tax credits and elimination of the state sales tax on utility bills to reduce consumer costs 10 to 15 per cent. The governor said he plans to recommend again dropping of the utility sales tax.

House Ways and Means, Energy Resources and State Affairs Committees conducted the hearing last week. Most of the testimony came from oil and gas industry spokesmen.

Clayton said if the legislature doesn't take action in special session, the soaring utility cost issue will face lawmakers in 1977 and spill over into "every piece of legislation we deal with."

Some legislators complained that little was accomplished by the hearings.

Tax Gain

Comptroller Bob Bullock claims Texas may gain as much as $335 million in inheritance tax revenue if it can prove the late mystery-man Howard Hughes was a legal resident of the state.

Bullock believes his office has "turned up fairly conclusive proof" that Hughes was a resident.

Hughes died last month while being rushed from Mexico to a Houston hospital. He left a fortune estimated at $2.3 billion, and $1 billion of it may go to satisfy inheritance taxes.

Mafia Spotted

Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council reports Mafia figures have been identified in several areas of the state, including five "families" in Dallas.

There is "no conclusive evidence" of how much syndicated crime activity (if any) centers in Dallas, however.

Houston, Texarkana and Cameron County were identified as other areas where Mafia members were spotted.

Gov. Briscoe said narcotics is the most serious organized crime problem in Texas. The report said massage parlors are increasingly a front for prostitution.

Dear Editor:

Ordinarily, if a person is looking for something funny to write about, he wouldn't tackle foreign policy. American foreign policy, for example, is no laughing matter, except maybe to people in other countries.

Therefore, I will discuss Egyptian foreign policy. According to an article I read in the paper the other day, Egyptian President Sadat has cancelled a treaty with Russia because he said Russian has become unreasonable.

"The Soviets are refusing to give me more arms. They are refusing to reschedule Egyptian debts. What is worse they are demanding that I pay interest on the military debts."

In the face of this President Sadat has cancelled Egypt's treaty of cooperation with Russia and has turned to the United States for help.

This makes sense. Who ever heard of a country lending money to another country and then trying to collect interest on it? You won't catch the U. S. trying to pull a stunt like that.

If all the countries in the world we've lent money to started paying just the interest on it, Washington would conclude we'd lost all our friends, our image abroad was ruined, and Kissinger would have to grab his check book and get back on his plane.

Oh well, Rome wasn't built in a day. You know, I've heard that expression all my life and never once have I ever heard anybody at any time ever claim it was built in one day. Rome is like some of those high-rise urban development apartment buildings. It takes longer to build one that it does to fall down.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill, in a new opinion, said the Texas constitution and penal code prohibit lotteries even though they are conducted for a charitable purpose.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Gov. Briscoe exceeded his authority in holding back part of a $4 million appropriation to community care of juvenile offenders.

- The Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation may allocate money to its central office from the reserve fund.

- Investigative information on South Texas rancher-banker Clinton Manges and his ranch is not subject to disclosure under the open records act.

- An appropriation to Texas State Technical Institute for constructing and equipping an instructional building at James Connally campus, Waco, is available for expenditure.

- The renewal fee for barber shop permits cannot be prorated. Duration of specialty licenses is subject to termination or modification by the legislature.

WE APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE

Q: My Father has written a will in longhand for himself. Is that a legal will under Texas law?

A: Handwritten wills are legal in Texas, if they are entirely hand-written by the same person who signs the will. The will is not valid if it is typed or is any form other than the handwriting of the person making the will. There is no requirement that a handwritten will be signed by a witness. Problems which arise in handwritten wills generally involve failure to make alternate provisions in case a person named as an heir dies before the will is probated, or failure to explain precisely how property is to be divided.

Q: A tenant in my rent house asked me if he could build a storage room over the patio. I told him to go ahead, so long as he made the patio roof and walls compatible with the existing roof. Now, he is moving out of the house and wants me to pay him for the lumber or he threatens to remove the room and take the lumber with him. Do I have to pay him for the lumber he used to build the room?

A: No, you do not have to reimburse your tenant for the cost of the room he built on your house. Unless you and your tenant agreed that you would reimburse him, the law provides that any permanent improvement attached to the structure legally becomes part of the building and belongs to the landlord.

Q: I've been living with a man for three years, and we consider ourselves married although we never got a marriage license or had a wedding. If we decide to split up, do we have to go to court and get a divorce?

A: Because a common law marriage is just as valid as a traditional marriage, a divorce is necessary in both types of marriages. Accordingly, any property or children resulting from either type of marriage must be divided between the husband and wife. The law defines a common law marriage as one where the partners agree to marry, hold themselves out as being married, and live together. Contrary to popular belief, there is no minimum number of years a couple must live together to have a legal common law marriage.

Q: I owe money on several charge accounts, and I want to know what effect my divorce will have when it becomes final. Can these charge accounts be closed and the balance be requested immediately?

A: Your divorce cannot affect your charge accounts unless there is some evidence to indicate you will not be able to pay your bills. The new Equal Credit Opportunity Act prohibits a merchant, or any other lender, from closing an account or requiring people to reapply for new accounts just because there is a change in their marital status.

Farm-facts

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

You May Be The One... Just The Facts... 90 Per Cent Increase.

During the latter part of this month, you may be receiving a crop questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. If you do get one, you are requested to fill it out and return it by mail. All individual reports are confidential and are used only for state and county totals.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for Texas and for each county.

A total of 24,000 farmers throughout the state will receive the crop questionnaires.

IF YOU FIGURE PARITY the same way school grades used to be understood, agriculture is only two points above failing financially. The latest parity for agriculture is 72. In times past, school grades below 70 were considered failing. Parity is a formula calculated to show how agriculture is doing financially compared to the rest of the economy.

The 72 parity ratio for April is two points above a month ago and three points above a year ago.

But before you think that things are that much improved, consider individual commodity prices and parity. As of the middle of April, only four commodities -- oats, sheep, lambs, and mohair -- were above parity levels.

The wheat price as of mid-April averaged $3.55 per bushel (it's in the $3.50 range now). That is $1.34 cents below parity. And remember, wheat production in Texas this year will be about half of what it was a year ago.

Sorghum price average for the state is $4.26 per hundredweight. Parity is $5.49.

Cotton continues to be way below parity, too. Cotton prices in Texas as of mid-April averaged 44.5 cents per pound. That is 18 cents above a year ago, but is 2.3 cents per pound under a month ago. Compared to parity, cotton is about 35 cents per pound below that ratio.

Hogs are $8 under parity; beef cattle are $20 under parity; calves are about $38 below parity.

So the facts are that farm prices have a long way to go yet before approaching parity levels in the majority of cases.

SHEEP AND LAMBS ON FEED in Texas as of May 1 are 90 per cent higher than a year ago, but are 12 per cent below a month ago.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that Texas drylot sheep feeders with a capacity of 2,000 head or more had 57,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of May 1.

Placements during April totaled 19,000 head. Sheep and lambs marketed for slaughter during April totaled 17,000 head.

Current intentions to market are 29,000 through this month; 21,000 during June and 7,000 during July.

County Agent's Notes

Agent Questions Organic Benefits

By Bill McCutchen

Organic gardening or farming has increased sharply in recent years, with the high interest being generated by few facts and mostly fiction.

First of all, organic gardening or farming enthusiasts reject the use of synthetic pesticides and fertilizers. Therefore, organic farmers should be informed of limited pest control measures and potential fertility problems.

Marketing could be a big issue as far as organic farming is concerned. A market must be established before the crop is grown.

Regulatory laws to protect the commercial organic farmer and their patrons do not exist and are not possible as it is impossible to detect whether or not fruit or vegetable have been grown organically or inorganically.

So, fraudulent marketing is easily accomplished.

In addition to pest control and fertility problems, the organic farmer is also confronted with the same problems encountered by inorganic farmers -- soil and water management, site selection, bed preparation, land leveling, depth of planting, and frequency and quantity of watering.

It is a scientific fact that organically grown fruits and vegetables are no more nutritious than those grown inorganically. The chemicals in plants such as vitamins, carbohydrates, and proteins are identical whether the plants are grown organically or inorganically.

Insect pests and plant diseases annually cause billions of dollars worth of damage to crops throughout the world. Losses from disease alone are estimated at more than $25 billion. In the U.S. all pests annually reduce crop yields by almost 30 percent, yet this country produces more than 300 billion pounds of food a year. Such a high level of production would be impossible by organic farming methods.

Organic farming does have a number of virtues and may be feasible on a small scale. However, it could hardly shoulder the responsibility for producing the massive amount of food needed in both this country and abroad.

Caution Urged In Purchase of Pesticides

AUSTIN--Beware of high-pressure telephone salesmen peddling pesticides, cautions Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Although no complaints have been received of such deceptive practices in Texas, it's a good idea to be on the alert, White said.

"In eleven states, farmers have been duped by salesmen who claim," over the telephone, that the pesticide could be used with crops and would provide three to six years of weed control, and the salesmen failed to indicate that the product was in diluted strength," White explained.

Upon delivery, most farmers found that the label specifically read "for non-crop use."

White urged farmers to follow two rules to avoid being taken. First, always read the label before purchasing. Second, know your seller.

Fertilize Now For Summer Hay

Moisture and fertilizer form a great combination to produce high quality hay. There's moisture in many sections of Texas now, so farmers and ranchers are urged to fertilize properly for an abundance of quality hay.

"Spring is the time to make hay in Texas because that's when the probability of rain is highest," contends Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This means that adequate fertilizer should also be applied in the spring to produce feed reserves for livestock."

The key to top quality hay production, according to the Texas A&M University System specialist, is adequate amounts of nitrogen. Welch recommends at least 80 to 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre where moisture is adequate. This can more than triple hay yields and can almost double the percentage of crude protein in the hay.

Swine Not To Blame For Flu Stir

Swine suffer from influenza each fall and winter just as humans do. But the virus that causes influenza in each is not the same, so swine should not be tabbed the villains in the current concern over a flu epidemic this fall.

"The current influenza danger is a human-to-human problem and does not really involve hogs or pork," emphasizes Dr. James Armstrong, a veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Since pigs or pork are not the cause of human influenza, they should not be associated with potential flu outbreaks."

Armstrong lists a few facts that human medicine and veterinary science authorities have agreed upon:

--Medical concerns center on human-to-human airborne transmission of the disease, not swine-to-human.

--There is no known probability of contracting the disease from eating pork.

--Transmission of influenza from swine to humans is regarded as a rarity to the point of being a medical phenomenon.

--There is no scientific certainty that the current so-called swine influenza in humans is the same virus found in swine.

Influenza was first diagnosed in swine in 1918 and took a heavy toll. However, it has recurred each year since then, with losses generally low--ranging from one to three percent. Armstrong points out that the disease spreads rapidly in swine herds but most animals recover in 3 to 10 days. Stunning and reduced gains are the most important economical factors.

Depressing sight, isn't it? And what is it we say when something old, familiar, once-cherished, once-useful has succumbed to the ravages of time? It served its purpose!

Could all the churches in our town someday look like this?

They could!

Maybe they will . . .

if they have served their purpose . . .

if we don't need them anymore!

Even if you haven't been to church recently, I think you'll protest that we DO need our churches. We need the truth they teach — the faith they instill — the hope they inspire — the God-given strength with which they undergird our life.

This is the very point: We ALL need our churches.

And to bring ALL of us to realize and fulfill our need . . .

That is their purpose!

ELECT MAURICE LOWREY CONSTABLE, PCT. 1

To become a certified peace officer by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and Education, a man must have 320 hours of police training and must have worked as a paid, full-time officer for a period of one year. The State of Texas will not recognize you as a peace officer until these requirements are met.

With earned college credits in Law Enforcement, I have 680 hours of training, and have made my living as a peace officer for 6 1/2 years. I was certified by the State of Texas in Feb. 1972. I was not born and raised in Precinct 1, but it has been my home for the past three years and this is where I intend to remain. I am concerned, as you are, about today's rising crime rates. I feel that I am qualified by training and actual working experience, to fill the position as Constable of Precinct 1. I want to be of service to my community, but to do this - I must have your vote in the June 5 run-off election.

Thank You, Maurice Lowrey

Budget Priced Royal Quality

If you're for quality like we are—then here's a Best Buy with a very special price. It's Granada Ironstone Dinnerware, imported from Spain, and made by some of Europe's finest craftsmen.

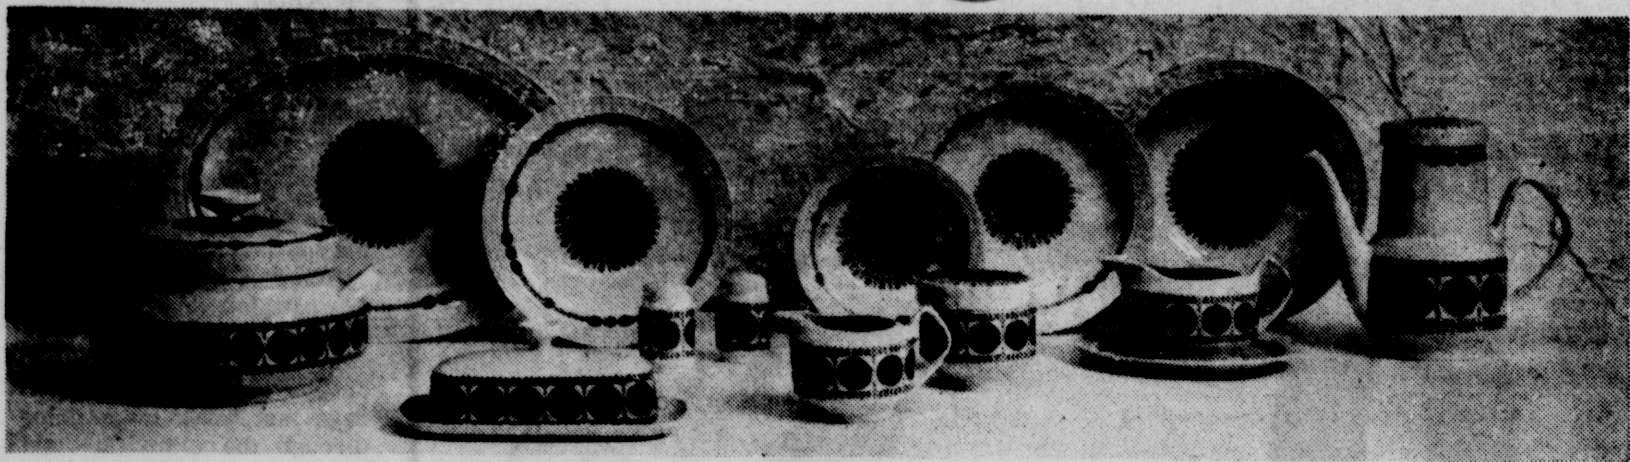

Granada is from the Castillian Collection by Pontessa, and it's genuine ironstone—handsome enough for everyday use, but classic enough for the most elegant occasions. What's more—it's detergent and dishwasher safe.

As you're looking over your Shopping List keep in mind that every $3.00 grocery purchase entitles you to this week's featured item. We'll have a different item featured each week for the next fifteen weeks, selected from five basic place settings.

Start collecting your set today! Just follow this weekly schedule. Remember, this sales plan will be repeated 3 times in the next 15 weeks.

1st WEEK	DINNER PLATE	Reg. $1.29	59¢	with every $3 purchase
2nd WEEK	COFFEE CUP	Reg. 89¢	59¢	with every $3 purchase
3rd WEEK	SAUCER	Reg. 79¢	59¢	with every $3 purchase
